REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The instant application discloses a method and system for transmitting and synchronizing data. A search of prior art records has failed to disclose alone or in combination:

“a method to synchronize transmission of data, said method comprising: receiving a plurality of data into a buffer at a destination device, wherein the plurality of data is transmitted by a first source device via a first network; receiving a plurality of synchronization pulses from at the destination device, wherein the plurality of synchronization pulses is transmitted by a second source device via a second network; and receiving a sequence number at said destination device to determine when said destination device will access said plurality of data from said buffer” as disclosed in claim 1.

“a method to transit data, said method comprising: transmitting a plurality of data from a first source device into a buffer at a destination device via a first network; wherein the destination device receives a plurality of synchronization pulses from a second source device via a second network; wherein said plurality of synchronization pulses adjusts a local clock in said destination device; and wherein the destination device extracts a sequence number from said plurality of synchronization pulses to determine when and in which order to access said plurality of data from said buffer” as disclosed in claim 18.

“ a data system, comprising: a destination device having a buffer and a controller, wherein the destination device receives a plurality of data from a first source device to be stored in the buffer and receives a plurality of synchronization pulses from a second source device that is physically separate from the first source device; wherein the controller is configured to calculate a sequence number to determine when the controller accesses the plurality of data from the buffer; wherein the destination device is configured to receive the plurality of data from the first source device via a first transmission medium of a first network; and wherein the destination device is configured to receive the synchronization pulses from the second source device via a second transmission medium of a second network” as disclosed in claim 27.

“a computer-implemented method for synchronizing transmission of data, the method comprising: receiving a plurality of data transmitted from a source device via a first network; subsequently receiving a plurality of synchronization pulses transmitted from said source via a second network; adjusting a clock local to each of one or more destination devices in response to said plurality of synchronization pulses; extracting a sequence number from said plurality of synchronization pulses; and invoking each of said one or more destination devices to access said plurality of data according to said sequence number” as disclosed in claim 50.

“ a computer program product for synchronizing transmission of data, wherein said computer program product is stored on a computer readable medium and adapted to perform operations of: receiving a plurality of data transmitted from a source device via a first network; subsequently receiving a plurality of synchronization pulses transmitted from said source device via a second network; adjusting a clock local to each of one or more destination devices in response to said plurality of synchronization pulses; extracting a sequence number from said plurality of synchronization pulses; and invoking each of said one or more destination devices to access said plurality of data according to said sequence number” as disclosed in claim 51.
